Dear (student first name):

Earlier this year, prior to the coronavirus public health crisis, INSTITUTION NAME launched the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE) that invites you to tell us about your experiences here. We recognize that participating in a survey might not seem like a priority given the changes and stressors of current circumstances, but your participation in feedback activities like NSSE matters, perhaps now more than ever. The information we collect is an important way for us to understand and improve the student experience. Your participation is voluntary, but we value your input.

Many questions on the survey ask about your experiences “during the current school year” and we ask you to consider your experience over the full year when responding.

To access the survey, either retrieve an earlier email that included your individual survey link or follow these instructions to have your link emailed to you:

- Go to https://nssesurvey.org
- Select “Don’t know your Login ID”
- Enter your email address when prompted; you will immediately receive an email with a unique survey link to automatically access the survey

Whether or not you decide to participate in NSSE, we appreciate your membership in our community and wish you well.

Signatory of your choice
